Dear Adam:

Over two years ago Integration Design Group, under your leadership, began the process of renovating Holy Trinity Catholic church. I could not be more thrilled with the outcome.

You began the renovation process by gathering parishioners of Holy Trinity into town hall meetings which served from the outset to involve and energize them in this crucial project. You worked with the members of our parish Design Committee in a highly professional manner, respectfully incorporating their sometimes conflicting ideas while maintaining integrity of design and fidelity to the overall vision for this project.

I am absolutely delighted with the completed church. I have been overwhelmed with cards and positive comments from our parishioners and many guests who have seen the church since our first Masses of Thanksgiving. I am especially impressed with the noble dignity of the church; you have taken the best of our rich Catholic liturgical tradition and integrated it into a contemporary structure which admirably serves the needs of the liturgy as it is currently being celebrated in the life of the Church. I cannot tell you how inspiring it is for me to offer the Holy Mass in this liturgical environment that your firm has renovated for us.

One of the highest compliments that I can pay to your efforts is this: when entering the church, our people enter into silence and their actions bespeak a peacefulness which tells me that you have succeeded in creating a truly sacred place of prayer, which raises the mind and the heart to God. The eye continually discovers new details and the beauty of the Sanctuary, in particular, focuses attention upon the crucial elements of a Catholic church: the Altar and Tabernacle.

I have worked with a number of architectural firms during my years as priest, and I have never been so impressed by the level of dedication, ability and understanding of the requirements of Catholic liturgy. I am deeply grateful to you and to your team at Integration Design Group. With enthusiasm, I give to you my highest recommendation and know that the Church will benefit greatly in the coming years from your love for our Faith translated into architectural reality!

Sincerely Yours in Christ,

Rev. John Hilton
